

Founded in 2002, SABPA has become an influential 501(C)(3) nonprofit organization in Southern California. Over two decades, SABPA's contributions have bolstered SoCal's thriving biomedical and pharmaceutical sectors. Our expansive community, with over 4,000 members ranging from academic scholars and industry professionals to entrepreneurs in the region, forms a vibrant network actively driving forward scientific progress in the life science industry.

Why Become a Sponsor

SABPA OC/LA's Annual Biomedical Forum is one of SABPA signature events. It will bring together 200 professionals from the biomedical, pharmaceutical, and medical device industries, along with academics from local universities such as CalTech, UCI, UCLA, USC, CSU, and others., showcasing groundbreaking innovations, cutting-edge technologies, and industry advancements, hosting renowned experts from academia and industry as speakers, providing significant visibility for sponsors.

Beyond the annual forum, SABPA OC/LA organizes Discovery & Entrepreneurship Seminar Series, Bio-AI Seminar Series, Regulatory discussion series, educational seminars, and career development workshops to further cultivate our professional community, providing additional opportunities for brand exposure and engagement.

As SABPA continues to foster industry collaboration, knowledge exchange and professional growth, we invite you to join our journey of advancing scientific understanding and industry growth.

By supporting SABPA, you align your brand with our robust network of 4,000+ members/subscribers, and contribute to an organization devoted to serving its members and the broader life science community. Your sponsorship will make a significant difference.
